Abstract:

Akber and Iqbal were renowned philosophers and poets of Sub-continent. More and less, they found the same epoch. They became paramour of vigilance and liberty to the Muslims of Sub-continent. They escaped the Muslims from servitude of colonial powers. They used their revolutionary poetry as a strong tool against Imperialism. Liberation and subjugation are specific postulates of their philosophy. They appropriated their art of poetry for the passion of enfranchisement and emancipation. They admonished the Muslim nation in their poetry that self-respect, self-consciousness, cogent economy and National bashfulness is inevitable for freedom. They presented in their philosophy that independence is life whereas slavery is death. They searched for the reasons of Muslim slavery in poverty, illiteracy and unemployment. Acquisition of separate territory was their verteran dream. Consequently, due to their liberation struggle Pakistan came into existence as a separate Muslim State.
